CONTRIBUTION JOURNAL

1. JENNIFER R.

For contribution for lab 06, I prepared the repository in GitHub, with all the files necessary that's needed to complete the lab to be able to collaborate for the assignment. I then work on the lab itself while also making sure to answer the questions and made sure all the code ran well. I use multiple references to understand this assignment and use google to understand more about the functions that I will be using for this assignment having a clear understanding and how to properly be using then for the assignment and why it was used. I then analyze the assignment understanding the data I have retrieved to be able and answer the questions. Once everything is complete, I organize all files into pdf and uploaded them into GitHub.
